

Jesse Noble

Multidisciplinary Multimedia artist

I have been writing and producing music with Ableton Live for around 6 - 7 years, and started using Bitwig in the last year. I also have experience with FL Studio, which is what I was using before Live.

Outside of software, I have a lot of experience with using and putting together hardware gear like mixers, synthesizers, effects, microphones and controllers. I have been using the studios at SAE to record various different instruments and voices, and have never found issue, despite the variety of hardware equipment found in the SAE studios.

On the side I work as a graphic designer and frequently do commissioned works for people, this includes branding, album art, posters, UI design, etc. I am also a member of the design firm desktopGeneration. Because of this, I am very familiar with managing payments with clients, giving them frequent updates on projects, and working with them to deliver projects they're always happy with.

I have also built and deployed various static websites in the last few years, with flexible layouts for mobile viewing.
